THE ANNUAL STAFF OF
WALNUT COVE
HIGH SCHOOL
PRESENTS
OF PROGRESS
AT
W.C.H.S.

This class scene is symbolic of many such classes in the early 1900's. The building in the background was one of the many institutions in and around Walnut Cove.

The students now obtain their education through improved facilities brought about by 50 years of progress.

FIFTY YEARS OF PROGRESS

Long before the dawn of tax-supported public schools, those who desired an education for their children either had to employ private instructors or pay their youngster's tuition in a private school.

Many of our prominent townspeople received their education in private schools established in Walnut Cove before 1900. Some of these people attended a school in the old Stokesburg Methodist Church which stood prior to the present church building and another church which burned in 1906, and others studied foreign languages, algebra, geometry and English in the old Walnut Cove Academy which stood on the hill behind Steve's Drug Store. The Academy sessions were only six months long, and those who wished eight months instruction had to pay extra fees. The Academy burned in 1922, having been unused for many years prior to that time.

Around 1910 a high school building was constructed next to the Primitive Baptist Church on High Street. Out-of-town people arranged for their children to board in Walnut Cove homes so that the children might attend school. Walnut Cove High School became an accredited school in 1922. Since then many small school districts--Fulp, Rosebud, Meadows, Danbury High School, and others--have been consolidated with Walnut Cove.

In 1922 a new brick building was erected on High Street for the high school, and the elementary school remained in the old wooden structure next to the Church. A home economics department was added to the high school at this time.

Around 1930 a gymnasium was constructed behind the high school building. Basketball teams which were treated with respect and awe throughout North Carolina were trained in this gymnasium. The structure burned in 1940, and since then the auditorium of the old high school building--and now the old elementary building--has served as a Gymnasium.

Mr. R. M. Green became principal of Walnut Cove School in 1938 and served in this capacity until he became Superintendent of Stokes County Schools in 1947. During these years a department of Vocational Agriculture was added, the old frame structure next to the Primitive Baptist Church was condemned, some of the elementary grade were taught in the Missionary Baptist, and the present high school building was completed in 1942. The old high school building on High Street then became the Walnut Cove Elementary School.

Mr. R. G. Thomas, who became principal in 1947, has witnessed and played an important part in the continued growth of Walnut Cove School. A new agriculture building, a new Junior High building, a new elementary school, and a spacious, beautiful stadium, have all been added to make Walnut Cove School the modern educational plant that it is today. The school now has 32 teachers--one of which is director of the band and glee club--and 924 students. It offers a variety of academic and vocational subjects and a well-balanced recreational and extra-curricular program which should appeal to the interest of every boy and girl.

FOREWORD

Yes, we learned many things during the 1960-61 school year. Along with homework, we had club meetings, all kinds of sports events, and the numerous other activities that make any teenager's high school day complete.

In the classroom we learned how historic events effected our lives today, how to better express ourselves through speaking and writing, the latest in science and mathematics and we gathered certain basic skills through our shop and home economics classes.

Extra curricular activities also play an important role in our education. Whether we actually participated in games or just observed them, the athletic program helped us to learn the qualities of good leadership. Above all, however, we learned the importance of getting along with others.

Naturally we made mistakes but we profited by them, rather than be defeated and discouraged. We came to realize both the happy and sad times of "growing up". High School provided us with many valuable friendships and fond memories which we will cherish in the future years.

The many events of this past year recorded on the paper of this yearbook will always serve as a reminder of the things we learned.

DEDICATION

We, the staff of the 1961 Wildcat, wish to show our appreciation to a man who has served on the local school board for the past 50 years. He has at all time had the best interest of the school at heart. Not only has he devoted his time and interest to public school education, but has passed this interest to his children. Four of his eight children are now in the teaching profession.

Capable, fair, and reasonable- he sets for us all an example of right-living. Because of our sincere admiration and respect for him as a leader in education, his service to us at Walnut Cove School, his love for his fellow man and his faith as a Christian gentleman, we, the 1961 Wildcat Staff, sincerely dedicate this yearbook to Mr. John H. Neal.

DEDICATED TO
MR. JOHN H. NEAL

QUALITY

1960-61 saw many changes in the concept of what the schools should be striving for, and as a result of studies by the State Board of Education, extra-curricula activities were held to a minimum.

The faculty and administrators of Walnut Cove High School have stressed quality education through improved classroom instruction.

Absentees from classes were at an absolute minimum--we soon learned to hold our various club meetings and play practices outside of regular classroom periods, and to devote our entire attention to the subject matter. Our library was used more extensively than before for most of us supplemented our textbooks with outside readings.

In these days of outer-space rockets and proposed "moon-trips," science has been stressed in our school.

The scene above shows Jimmy and John deeply engrossed with the experiment they are working on in physics class.

Fine Arts are also being stressed in our classrooms. Each student, particularly the college preparatory students, is being urged to take two years of a foreign language.

This a typical foreign language scene at the right.

EDUCATION

Quality education has brought about many new things such as the T.V. classes. We can now enroll in either general science or history on television (What would the class of 1910 have said about such?).

For research and reading we turn to our well equipped library.

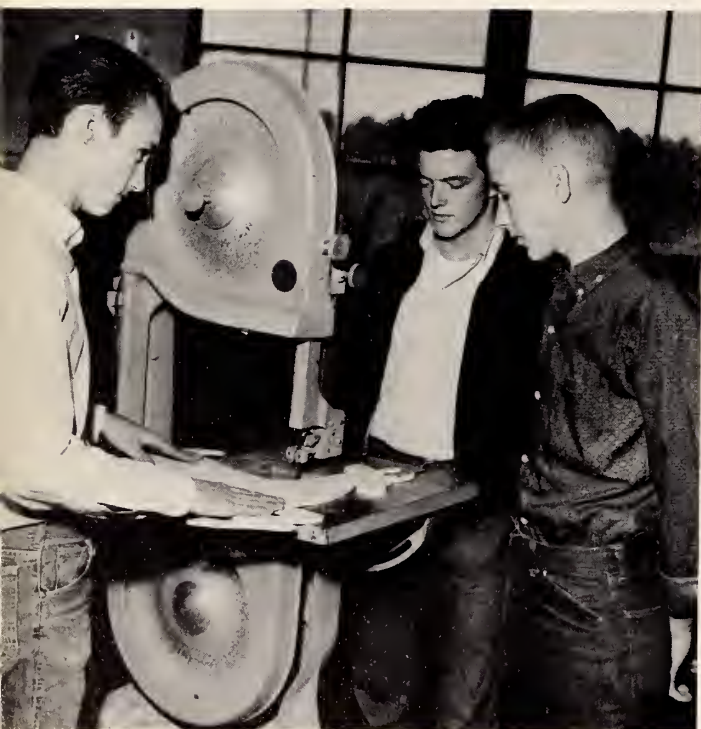

Some plan for business careers by enrolling in our commercial courses.

Others choose to broaden their education by enrolling in higher math classes.

Our special gratitude goes to Mr. Willie Bell, our yearbook photographer, who has given us much help in meeting our yearbook deadline. Richard found Mr. Bell at work and captured this scene for our yearbook.

Many boys obtain skill in woodcraft by the many facilities of our shop. Here Mr. Johnson teaches skill that will be helpful to these boys in later years.

One of the long awaited highlights of our football season is the annual Homecoming game.

Many hours of hard work went into our Homecoming Parade. Each club made a beautiful float, each carrying out the theme of our parade which was Fairy Tales.

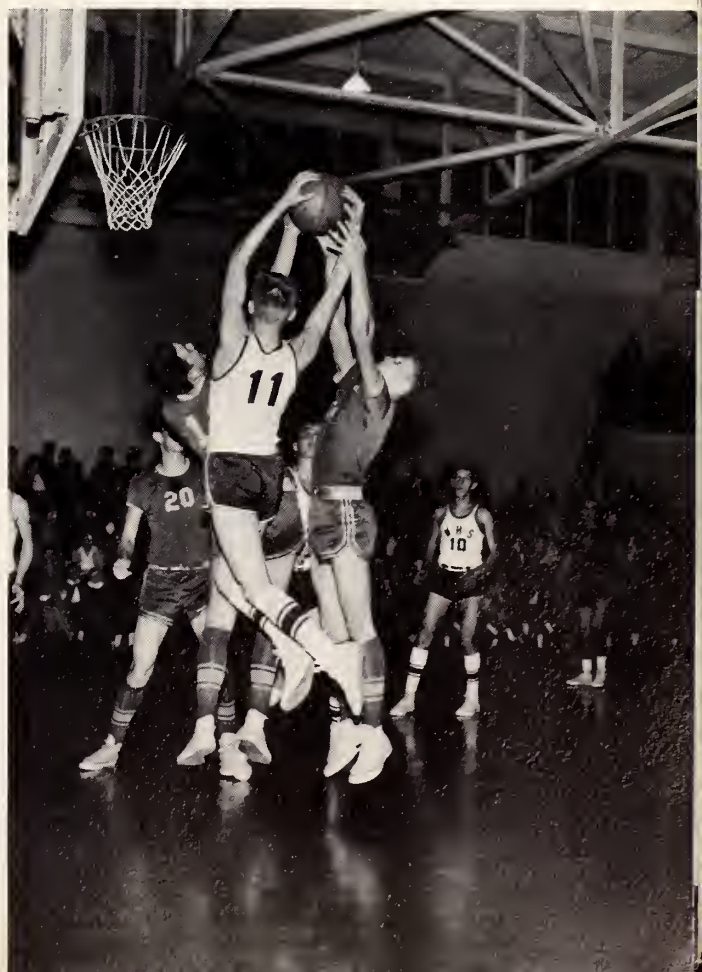

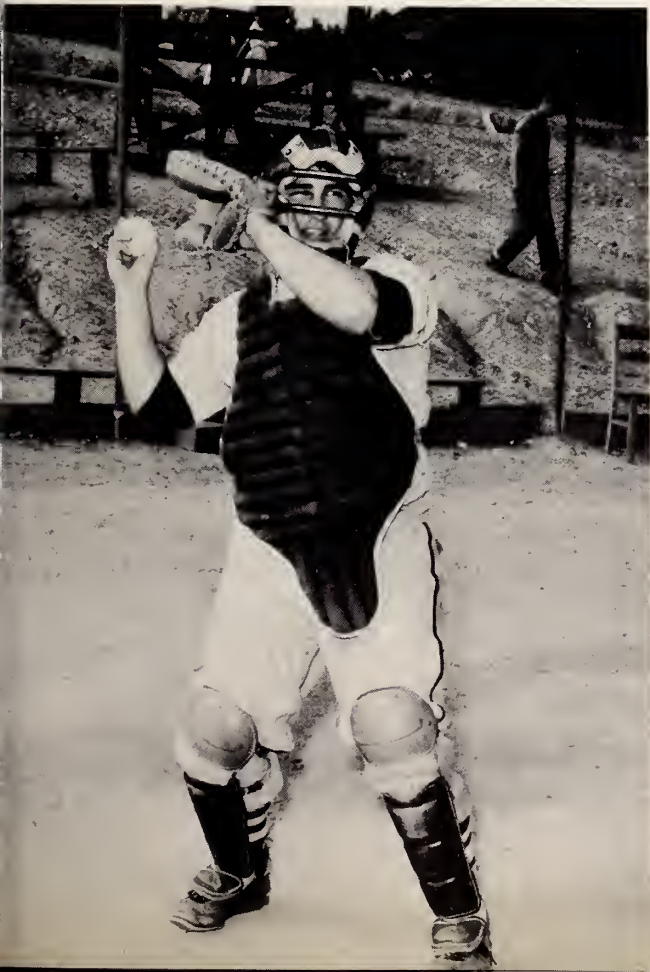

The excitement of the parade was carried over into the evening when the football game began. It proved to be the best game yet. The stands were full of fans cheering our team to victory. From the cheerleaders came the yell "victory, victory, here's our cry, V-I-C-T-O-R-Y". Yes, we were winning our first home game. At the half the band formed entertaining and intricate formations. Soon the homecoming candidates and senior sponsors were driven onto the field. The air was quiet with suspense as everyone awaited the crowning of the new queen. Pat Bennett, queen of 59-60 crowned Miss Mary Moon Taylor, Homecoming Queen of 1960-61. The victory and the crowning of the queen were celebrated at a homecoming dance afterwards. This ended the 1960 homecoming festivities--truly a memorable occasion in the minds of every student.

Our students are not only interested in learning in the classroom but also in developing a very important part of their character by participating in the athletic program and various other school activities. We feel that we must develop in sportsmanship and school spirit as well as in academic achievement.

Here are a few action scenes from our various sports activities.

The high stepping majorettes of W.C.H.S. have added much to the brilliance of the various band activities. Although many of our extra-curricular activities were curtailed, this is one that was stressed. The band and the majorettes well represented our school throughout the surrounding areas under the capable leadership of Mr. Harris.

Through the use of the Library, our students improve their education. Under the careful supervision of Mrs. Middleton, the library is well equipped with fiction, non-fiction, biographies, reference books, etc. With the help of the library assistants, the library is kept in very good order.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF '61

It has been a heartening experience to observe and to share in the progress made in the Walnut Cove High School during my tenure in office. While you are celebrating a milestone in your education, you are also celebrating a half century's school goal.

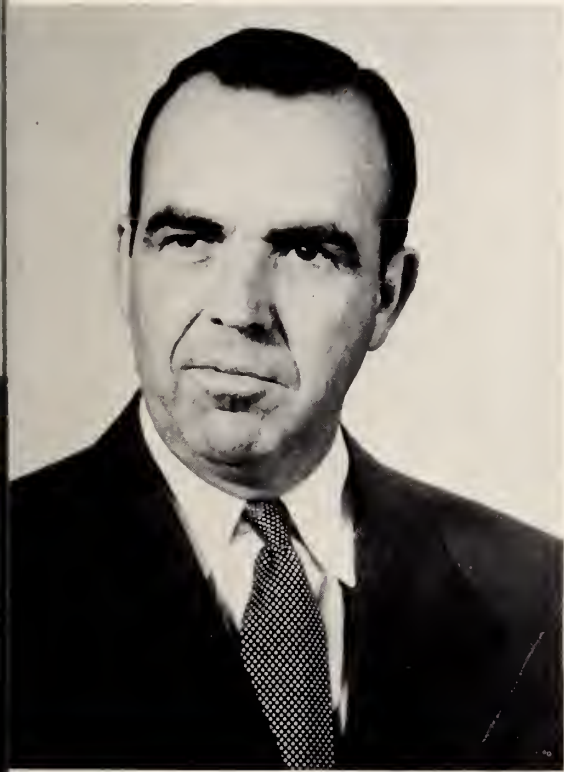

Your intellectual resources are being challenged. My wish for you is that you meet the challenges that lie ahead. The call for intelligent leadership is imperative today and will be more so in the future.

You must continue to strive for excellence in all things for it is you who must solve the complex problems of the future.

FACULTY

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The theme of this yearbook is, quality education through fifty years of progress at Walnut Cove High School. The primary purpose of this edition of the Wildcat is to give such expression to every phase of school life as will recall fond memories of the school year 1960-61, and all those other years that have preceded it. In bringing to you this school spirit, an attempt has been made to give you a true representation of school life.

This annual is one of many channels through which school spirit is perpetuated and propagated. Congratulations are in order and extended to the Wildcat staff and advisors for a difficult task well done. May your sleepless nights of the present be rewarded with pleasant dreams in the future. Thanks also are extended to the people who support the annual with advertisements; your patronage is deeply appreciated.

SENIORS

A Senior at last! You kept repeating the phrase as if it held some magic in it. It hardly seemed possible that three years had faded into memories, and this was your last year at W.C.H.S.

Little things took on special significance, each event became a memorable occasion, and things before unheeded were laughable and lovable. New friends became dear, old ones dearer. You attended each event with that key phrase, "This is the last-----" The last pep rally, and homecoming, the last class play, the last senior trip and parties with your favorite friends. You wanted each one to be the best for it was your last.

You joined in with enthusiasm at all the long awaited "senior activities", senior parties, work a day, skip a day. Suddenly before you realized, May had arrived and your last year had come to a close.

As the activities of the prom, and the baccalaureate slipped into the past, commencement was at last upon you. You were ready for that all important, final step out of the halls of W.C.H.S. "Here's to you", the seniors and important part of your "Alma Mater, Walnut Cove High School."

CLASS HISTORY

In the beginning we were FRESHMEN. Eighty-four proud students entered high school in the fall of 1957. We were the largest class to enter in many years. The confusion of changing classes was new, exciting and also fun. Our homeroom teachers were Mr. Beck and Mr. Leonard, who were as new to the high school as we were. Our more athletic classmates entered into sports activities at once. For years they had looked forward to being on that all important "High School Team". We also strived hard to make that "good" impression on the rest of the high school.

Then we received our final reports declaring us SOPHOMORES. Then we began to pretend we knew it all. No longer were we the "lowly Freshman". We felt we were old hands at changing classes. Now we began to take part in more of the social activities. We joined all the clubs we could and began working to be accepted in honor societies. Our teachers this year were Mrs. Bailey and Mr. Nelson. We felt that our achievements had been great, yet we knew we had much more to achieve.

Then with the end in sight we worked a little harder as JUNIORS. What a wonderful and busy year. Our helpful advisors were Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Middleton. The Halloween Carnival proved to be the best yet. The next big junior event was the Junior Play. The suspense in waiting to know who got the parts and then, practice, practice, practice. "Mother was a Freshmen" turned out to be a huge success, and our so called critics raved. How can we ever forget that exciting day when we marched to the library to be measured for our rings. In March came the biggest thrill yet, our long awaited Junior and Senior trip to Williamsburg and Washington, and all the work it took to get us there. Some of us remember that day in assembly when Junior Marshals were announced. What a thrill! At last May came and we honored the Seniors with a prom. Now as we looked forward to being Seniors we realized there would be more hardships and more happiness.

At last we reached the thoughtful hesitancy of SENIORS. First we elected our honorable Senior Officers. Next we received those long awaited class rings. Everyone was so proud to hold out that third finger. At homecoming we honored our Senior football players who did so much to make our team a winning team. The Homecoming Queen was also an honorable Senior. We also were very proud of our Senior basketball players who put us at the top for the first time in a long time. Our next duties were to choose our mascots, colors, flower, and motto. As our motto we chose "With the ropes of the past we'll ring the bells of the future." We, the graduating class of 1961, hope we will do just that, for the fine school of which we are so proud. Our capable leaders this year were Mrs. Greene and Mr. Satterfield. Now as graduation draws near and parting of our ways comes, we close the vivid memories of our school years. We pay our solemn respects to our teachers, principal, superintendent, and parents, who have guided and influenced as well as taught us along the way.

All of us will be going out into the world to seek our fortunes. We know not the future but we can rest assured in Him who holds our future in His hands.

ORGANIZATIONS

Working on your behalf the organizations are perhaps one of the most important phases of your year--Student Council, the publications, clubs, and the music groups make up the organizations.

By electing Student Council officers in the spring and homeroom representatives in the fall, you have a voice in the government of W.C.H.S. Whether planning the year's activities or representing you to the faculty and administration, the Student Council seeks to keep your interest first.

The music groups practiced long hours perfecting their skill to perform for you at assemblies and concerts. The band added zest and sparkle to the Homecoming Parade and provided entertaining half-time shows during football season. The band participated in many Christmas Parades throughout Piedmont North Carolina. The band has been your representative.

The school newspaper keeps you informed on school news and records and portrays the events of your school year.

Each organization worked hard this year, displaying a notable record of service. They have been your ambassadors reflecting you throughout the community and state.

MARSHALS

The Marshals are chosen as the best students of the Junior Class. It is indeed an honor to be chosen a Marshal. These Marshals, who so faithfully strived to do their best, remind us of pupils who are constantly alert for broadening their intellectual abilities. By holding their ideals aloft, these students have fulfilled their hopes. These students have experienced hard tasks, but in the end it is truly rewarding.

BETA CLUB

The National Beta Club is a non-secret, achievement service organization for students of senior high schools. Its purpose is the promotion of honesty, service, and leadership.

It rewards merit, encourages effort, and elevates the moral welfare of high school students. Membership is based on honorable character, creditable achievement, and commendable attitude.

SPORTS

Victory, Victory, here's our cry V-I-C-T-O-R-Y. This was the constant cry of the Walnut Cove cheerleaders throughout our 1960 football season in which our boys were sparked to the Stokes-Rockingham Conference Championship. It remained our cry through the 1960-61 basketball season. Our team had maintained top position in the Stokes Conference until mid-January. During the entire season; the Walnut Cove fans increasing enthusiasm in the activity of our teams. In the high school, the student body gave a great response to the many events, such as pep rallies, bon fires, purple-gold days, and victory dances--all designed to bring about a better understanding of good sportsmanship, and a higher regain for school spirit, which is essential in the betterment of various sports activities. Last, but not least in the parade of high school sports events, is baseball. During the previous seasons, we experienced fine ball club, but on the optimistic side we believe this year will be the best yet, of the Walnut Cove baseball team.

In summarizing, we find that our various ball clubs have, and will continue to have the highest regard for good sportsmanship and will always strive to do their best for their ball club and for their school.

CHEERLEADERS

Donna Craig

This year the cheerleaders have done an excellent job in improving the school spirit. "No matter what the weather, they were all together, pulling their team on to victory." In past years the cheerleaders haven't been allotted much space, but this year since they have done such a good job, we are allowing them more recognition.

They're full of personality and energy and stuff.

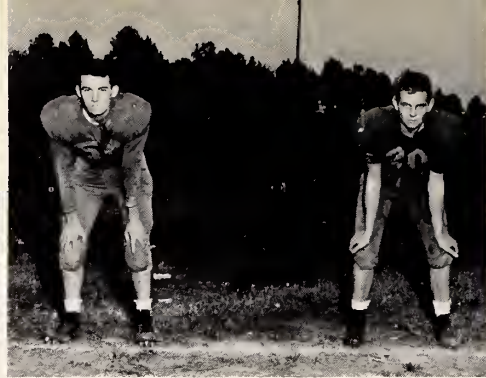

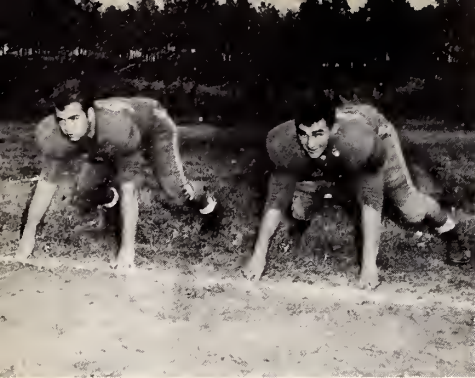

And when they prance before, we can't yell loud enough.

If ever we are losing and the situation's dim.

We can count on our cheerleaders for an extra dose of vim.

JUNIOR HIGH

Clothes, hairdos, ball games, boys, girls, dates, movie stars, dancing, collecting records--these are the things which interest us, although occasionally the teachers try to drum North Carolina history, math, and English into our heads.

The eighth graders in our midst started preparing for high school by changing classes just as the high school students do. We are learning the techniques and habits of high school living. We are learning to accept the refusal of teachers when we are trying to get less homework.

We junior high students are learning to be better leaders in clubs and activities by co-operating with our student council. This may be only a junior student council, but it is a very strong one for it has carried out many projects in helping our school.

Although clothes, hairdos, and dates may be our interest today, our ideals and goals will surely change by the time we are seniors.

We, the Annual Staff of Walnut Cove High School, would like to express our sincere appreciation for the co-operation of the merchants whose advertisements appear on the preceding pages. Without these advertisements, our annual could not have been published. We urge all of our subscribers to patronize these generous merchants.

John Freas
Business Manager

No record of our year would be complete without remembering our custodian, Ott Lash. He keeps our building and grounds clean and the building warm on the cold days.

THANK YOU

Dear Fellow Students:

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to the staff for their co-operation in putting out this edition of the Wildcat. A very very special thank you goes to Mrs. Christine Greene, our advisor, who has give unselfishly of her time and advice in guiding us over unforeseen obstacles. Our special gratitude goes to Willie Bell, our yearbook photographer, for his helpful suggestions and guidance. Next, our thanks and appreciation go to Delmar Studios in Charlotte for the superb work that its staff has given us.

Our goal has been accomplished, and it is our sincere desire that you, the student body of Walnut Cove High School, may find many hours of pleasure from this, the 1961 Wildcat.

Respectfully yours,
Richard Joyce
Anne Wright
